Walter Lighthizer
"Shorty"

There is one face that forevermore will be imprinted on the memories of all AHS students, one man whose name will never fail to conjure vivid remembrances of kindness done, friendliness, and loyalty. Always willing, always ready to lend a helping hand, "Shorty" is a friend to everyone.

We can never hope to repay Mr. Lighthizer for the innumerable things he has done for us, as a class and as individuals. In this small way, we wish to express our gratitude to "Shorty", one of the finest men we have ever had the privilege of knowing, by dedicating the '47 "Beaver" to him.

Harold,

The only trouble with those nights at our house was we didn't quite know when to expect H. B. But we got along.
Be good and take it easy - Nancy

The annual staff, under the able direction of Miss Lehman, worked hard to compile "The Beaver" for the class of 1947. Many long hours were spent, but everyone had the feeling of success when the task was completed.

Early in the year the staff made arrangements with the photographer, the faculty and clubs. After pictures were taken, copy sheets had to be planned and assignments given out.

The editor-in-chief, Grace Mueller, with the assistance of Miss Lehman helped each of the sectional editors. Assistant editor was Jack Hoehn and Betty Shoemaker acted as assistant business manager. Our regular business manager resigned before the completion of the annual.

The sports section was managed by Dave Young. The advertising managers were Jake Jacobson and Bill Rahl.

The drawings, lettering, and all art work was handled by Theresa Piel and Dick Johnson. Social editors were Nancy Miller and Delores Wiese.

All typists had a full time job and we are proud of their excellent work. Credit can be given to Marjorie Wood, Mary Ann Kreutzer, Florence Huth, Gloria Mueller, Frances Lambert, and Opal Haldeman.

We also wish to thank Lavern Wiese for his co-operation in taking individual and group pictures for "The Beaver."

The Juniors worked hard to conquer the year so that they could take the final step. They were in charge of the homecoming celebration which started Thursday night with a snake dance. The next morning was spent decorating the floats and the parade started at 3 o'clock. The parade was led at the four corners. After the rode the Juniors made a dance that was very successful. They started early for the prom which is one of the greatest events of the year. The complete class worked hard to throw up the most beautiful ballroom. Mrs. Funk was the class mother.

The class next to the windows, popularly known as the Sophomores, was quite a problem to Mr. Rasmus. It seems they had a difficult time adjusting themselves to the atmosphere of the Senior Assembly. The most fun they had during the year was initiating the Freshmen to the High School. They had charge of the Christmas program and with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Hull gave an enjoyable play. Their advisor was Mr. Hull.

Best of luck to a good spirit.

The fresh, green faces that you saw beaming around school this year were the new Freshmen. The most excitement they encountered this year was their initiation. In fact, it proved entertaining for everyone in school. The pigtailed of the girls and the dresses of the boys were very funny. It was a new and exciting experience which proved surprising to the Sophomores and laughable to the Freshmen. Mr. Humphrey was their advisor.

FOOTBALL

The crisp September air was punctuated by the repeated thuds of feet upon the local gridiron. The football season of '46 had begun.

Everyone predicted a fine season on the basis of returning lettermen being under the able direction of our new coach, Jim Haas. The field, equipped with a new lighting system, was in fine condition and attracted large and enthusiastic crowds who enjoyed high school football at its finest.

The Beavers, placing more emphasis on improvement than on winning games, dropped their first two of three games--one to powerful Whitehall and the other to Black River. As the season progressed, the Beavers romped over Galesville and Oseco, and tied one with Mondovi.

They ended the season by thumping Durand on a muddy field. This won them a tie with Durand for a second place in conference standings.

The squad loses six senior lettermen by graduation--Knuth (chosen as all-conference halfback), Rahl (elected most valuable player), Jacobson (Captain), Arndt, Hedorn, and Young.

BASKETBALL SEASON OF '46-'47

The whistle sounded and an entirely veteran team stepped out on the court. The Beaver 5, averaging over 6' tall, and all previous letter winners were destined to towering heights. They fought their way through all competition the Mississippi Valley Conference had to offer and an easy the title of the league. It was the fifth time Augusta had won the crown in six years.

Getting off to a good start, the Beavers over-ran Cadott, Thorp, and Greenwood in non-conference games. They then met Leland as their first conference foe. They defeated them by a 51-35 count and went on to defeat all other teams in the conference, except Whitehall, which checked them once in an overtime game.

In the second meeting of Augusta and Whitehall the Beavers showed their supremacy by defeating them 39-36 in a hard fought game. This win put Augusta into undisputed first place in the Mississippi Valley Conference.

With this fine record of 14 wins and 3 losses the Beavers entered the regional tournament at Eau Claire. They entered as a dark-horse team because, as was stated, "their unpredictability to play the same game each time".

In the first game the Beavers played a big Thorp team whom they had split games with earlier in the season. Getting off to a fast start, they jumped ahead to a 19-10 half-time lead which the Thorp team was never able to surpass until the closing minutes, but with a short, final rally the Beavers passed them by two points and went on to win with this margin as the deciding factor.

In their second game, they met a surprisingly strong Stanley quintet. The Orioles repeatedly fought off large Augusta leads, but could not keep up to the fast pace set by the locals, who defeated them 46-39.

This victory carried them into the finals of the Regional tournament facing an undefeated Menomonie quintet. Menomonie jumped into a quick 15-5 first quarter lead, but the Beavers fought back to a 17-22 half-time score. The team could not overcome the lead the Maroons had acquired with their towering height and superior floor play. Menomonie won the game 47-39, and the tournament with this victory, with Augusta placing second.

This completed a very successful season for the Beavers, who will lose five members of the team by graduation; Rahl, Hult, Jacobson, Mierow and Young. We all wish the future teams best of luck and hope they continue the fine record set thus far for A. H. S. Basketball teams.

SCOREBOARD

F. F. A. basketball, reviewed again after an absence of 3 years, started with a bang. The boys, under the very able direction of Mr. Hull, enthusiastically donated their time and abilities to their cause. They were not cheated of their enthusiasm, which is shown by their fine record, and set a fine example for groups of their kind to heed and mimic.

They started their season with everything to gain and nothing to lose. It was a tough job to schedule games for the team at first, but starting slow they soon had a tentative schedule which was added to and changed until the final one was adopted and played.

The boys, pressed very much for practice, sacrificed their lunch hour in order that they might condition themselves for battles with their opponents.

Their record was unmarred except for a defeat handed them by the local "B" team after they had handed them an earlier defeat. Their highest score was a 47-24 whipping of the Fairchild B's. The surprising score and game of the season was a 45-9 shellacking of the Eau Claire F. F. A. team. They average 30 points per game to their opponents 15, which in itself tells of the power and supremacy of the team.

They will lose Yule, Kuehn, Travis, and Carlson by graduation. This will handicap the outlook for next year's team greatly, but with the remaining underclassmen the team should continue their winning ways.

With the coming of spring weather we had a large turn-out for our national sport, baseball. The 1946 squad was green and unexperienced, but they made up for that in hustle and spirit. This squad was under the direction of Mr. Norman Olson, who has left after receiving another position.

The squad was greatly handicapped by the loss of last year's graduating regulars, but this year no players will be lost so a good season is predicted.

The first half of the season saw them split even in the win and loss column after falling victims to powerful Eau Claire and Arcadia teams. Then, in the second half they won and lost to same teams as they had in their first meetings.

They played against some very classy opposition, which included Eau Claire. The Beavers played very close games in each of their meetings, but the Eau Claire team emerged victors each time on late rallies in their games.

Another close game of the season was against a strong Arcadia team. The Beavers led throughout the game by such scores as 4-0 at the end of the seventh inning, but Arcadia rallied to pass the locals who were never able to overcome the small lead.

They closed their season against the local city team. It was a very exciting game with the lead changing hands several times before the City team forged ahead and went on to win the game.

The team will be under new direction this year. Our new coach, Mr. Haas, will direct the team in the coming season. We hope they will leave even a more impressive record than was left before.

The Twirlers

The Band In Action

The band worked hard this year under the direction of Mr. Strandt. It was a source of pep at all athletic activities. They maneuvered at most of the football games and formed the letters "A" and "M" at the Homecoming game with Mondovi.

Their first concert was held December 5. One of the most entertaining numbers of the evening was Rastime Wedding. Another concert was given in the spring before they went to Eau Claire for the festival. The required number for the festival was "Overture Militaire", based on Haydn's symphony. The march they selected was "Hall of Fame". About twenty-five people worked on solos and ensembles for the festival.

A Junior Band was organized this year, which consisted of twenty-five members. They practiced once a week, and worked hard to get into the first band.

The twirlers added that final touch that was needed to complete our band. They had two groups which entertained on the gym floor during the halves of basketball games. They worked hard at their routine and everyone enjoyed them. The senior twirlers were as follows: A. Ringhand, J. Johnson, B. Newton, V. Shefchik, and D. Johnson. The junior twirlers were: L. Hiebner, R. Hamsey, D. Johnson, B. Steats, D. Halliott, J. Sperber, J. Goede.

The two chorus groups were formed in September for the purpose of learning the art and fun of singing. They participated in the Christmas program, the February Patriotic program, and the Spring Festival. During the year about thirty-five people worked on solos and from this group the F. F. A. Quartet was chosen. For the purpose of raising money, the Senior Chorus sponsored the movie, "Can't Help Singing", starring Deanna Durbin. They also entered the music contest at Eau Claire. Their director was Mrs. James.

The ensemble, consisting of thirteen girls, provided entertainment for many civic and school programs. The songs they worked on ranged from popular ones to rather difficult classicals. They entered the district contest at Eau Claire. LaDean Davis sang in the ensemble during the first semester.

On December 12, the Junior Class presented "Take It Easy." The plot centered about Mrs. Imenda Highgate, a forgetful, eccentric society woman. The play became a pandemonium of rib-cracking laughs when, in her mad scramble to keep from being outdone in her social set, she decided to have Tom Laurence, a young artist whom she had ordered from the house a week before, paint her portrait. Things really happened when three artists arrived and Mrs. Highgate lost her pearls. Beagle Jones, the "human bloodhound" detective managed to get everything settled in the end and fixed up Tom Laurence's love for Nancy, Mrs. Highgate's daughter.

What's the deadline? Does anyone know any good gossip? Are there any new jokes for my column? These are some of the frequent questions thrown around in the typing room.

This year the newspaper staff changed the name of the school paper from the former "School Daze" to "The Echo." The usual chit chat and buzz it contains keeps us informed of events and happenings of our school--social, sports, and otherwise.

The students engaged in working on the paper gain a little knowledge of journalism. The staff turned out a good piece of work this year and we hope "The Echo" prospers as well in future years.

The newspaper staff sponsored a one-act play contest for all clubs and classes to participate in. The Lettermen, GAA, FHA, Freshmen, Sr. class, and Sr. Chorus took part. The GAA won the $5 prize with the play "Billy's First Date."

Their task, not an easy one, came through with flying colors. At Christmas time they decorated the assembly with a huge Christmas tree, bells and wreaths. They also arranged for the holiday program. The council suggested that the school draw names and give presents to the respective persons. Gifts were received and given by all. ## CLASS PROPHECY

With the problem of having to write the class prophecy, we find Dave Young, one of the star pupils of our class, in quiet meditation. Upon his face is a blank expression as he tries in vain to coax ideas from his brain, but none will come. Oh, to be like Peter Pan, soaring through the air, out into the "Future". In his mind he extends his arms, in a bird-like fashion, softly paddling the air, which causes him to be drawn from his seat. Then, with ease, he turns on his side and swiftly floats out of the window, out above the steeples. As he gains more altitude he happens onto a fluffy white cloud and perceives the large golden letters "Future" above a high gate. The keeper he finds arrayed in the white raiment of St. Peter, and recognizes him instantly as Delmar Travis. After having gained entrance, he inquires of the street cleaner, Charles Kuehn, the name of the city he is in and finds it to be Augusta-Alumniville, with Rachel Balliett ruling with an iron hand.

Walking on down the street he can see many signs in bright lights. One he recognizes immediately. . . "Mervin Carlson"--Executive Director of the EZ-DI RAT POISON CORP. He later finds his private secretary to be none other than the famous Beatrice Walker.

Feeling the pains of hunger coming on, he looks at his watch and discovers that it is time to eat. Going into the nearest restaurant, he is greeted by a pleasing aroma. He seats himself and the head-waitress, Virginia Hahl, comes over to take his order. She tells him that her brother-in-law, Ernie Hadorn, is the proprietor. After eating a tasty meal cooked by the famous Dick Johnson, who also entertains the customers at the piano at odd moments, he leaves and collides with a 4-star general. It seems that Ray Helgerson has decided to make the army his career. He informs Dave that one of his newest recruits is his brother, Douglas.

Leaving the restaurant, Dave boards a double-decker sight-seeing bus. Jerry Arndt is at the wheel and LaMont Knuth is the guide. He points out several places of interest: The Always Pleasant Reading Library, of which Nancy Miller is the librarian; The 'Black As Midnight' Laundry, which is owned and operated by Betty McLellan with her able staff of assistants—Jean Hanson, Doris Swartz, and Mary Ann Kreutzer.

Upon leaving the bus he decides he needs a shave and stops at a nearby barber shop. . . to his amazement he finds Lamoin Erdman whetting the razor and scissors. He has the radio on and Marion Zillmer is broadcasting from station J-A-K-E, owned and operated by Merle Jacobson. Marion has as her guest the famous sports commentator, Bill Rahl. He is broadcasting the results of the day's horse races.

Plowboy, owned by Donna Mae Hall and ridden by Theresa Piel, the only girl jockey in the game, had won the race by four lengths. As Dave climbed out of the chair, Frank Yule came running up to him and asked him if he wanted a shine. Dave gave his consent and as he sat down someone gently grabbed his hand and he recognized La Dean Davis, who made up the fourth member of the barber shop quartette, doubling as manacurist.

He took a taxi outside the barber shop and discovered the driver to be Don Johnson. He told him Turk Fisher and Davis Donnelly had started a show on Broadway comparable to Ziegfeld's Follies. The star was Opal Haldeman, co-starring Buzz McAdam. By this time he had reached the hotel and decided to go to the bar. Upon entering, a pleasant voice said "Check your hat, sir?" He turned to see Donna Dean Grams, who was proprietor and Betty Timm the featured soloist. He left the bar and went to the desk to get his keys. He found Margie Wood in charge of the desk.

The next day he decided to make a tour of the industrial district. The first factory he came to was the Studebaker Company owned and operated by Lovelle Lightizer and Marie Hadorn. They employed Helen McCull as their Chemical Analyst and nurse combined. The next factory he visited was that of Grace and Gloria Mueller. They manufactured glasses to make twins look more alike.

After leaving the industrial district of Augusta-Alumniville, he started back to his hotel. Along the way he saw a hitchhiker on the road and decided to pick her up. To his amazement he found it to be an old classmate, Ada Funk. It seems she was on a vacation from teaching Math. She also told him that Delores Wiese was the commercial teacher in the same school.

By this time he had come to his destination and let her off, and he then noticed that a new house was going up near by. He walked over and found the head carpenter to be Carol Ostrum. She told him that the house was going to be sound-proof and it was for an old classmate, Rose Staats, who was practicing for the opera. Juanita Dury was Rose's secretary. Daniels and Daniels Silverware Company was a thriving business a few blocks away. Florence Huth was a third partner and secretary in the firm.

Dave then returned to the hotel and made a phone call. He recognized the pleasant voice of Frances Lambert immediately. She told him that Margaret Coakley was nearby and sent him her greetings.

All of a sudden Dave was jolted, and awakened to find everyone filing out of the room. Class was over and Dave with no class prophecy. Maybe he could get it done some other time.

Harold's mother is going to die soon.
Send it early too, and take it back later for it will be done then.

Dear Harold,

It certainly has been fun knowing you this year. I know I will never forget the Labor Day dance of '46'. Or all the food etc.

I know I will remember all the football games this year. and at Arcadia when you made the tackle I almost put as much energy as you did making it. I was so happy and proud. Remember all the dances after football games they were sure fun.

Also the letterman party was fun to. I was the only girl that knew what we were going to have to eat.

Remember the night down at the Green Lantern when I had the finger nail polish? Betty's coat is just cover with polish.

Remember the night we played chalt-chalt and I put my books at the church steps and we came back later on to get them.

Remember all the moon honey we used to sit back with Betty at her desk and talk. I wish we could do it again next year.

Remember New Year Eve? I know I well as it was my first New Year Eve party.

Also the Dec 7th Holiday dance at Christmas was fun even though we had to get ready in a hurry. But that what I like about you. I hope we will have as much fun Fri. night to the dance as we did before.

Remember the Sunday afternoons when you and Betty, & Butch used to come over and we would play cards or put puzzles together. I hope the there is a fourth person to our know two and we start doing it again.

One of the biggest events in school is the Jr - Sen. prom. I really had fun. Even though we did get home rather late.

You know what you told me last night? I hope it does happen that way.

I have been writing in here for you some time. With all do you remember stuff. I think I had better tonight. I wish you the best of luck and happiness this year and years to come. Don't forget me as you certainly did do a lot to help me have such a good time in my senior year.

Love
Jean
